Going After a Prize.
The grand encampment of the Patriarchs' Militant and the meeting of the Sovereign grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held at Chicago this fall. Prizes ranging from $500 down to $100, will be offered for the best degree work by any subordinate lodge degree staff. Both lodges in Decatur have in the past had staffs that could and did beat any staff in this part of the state. Their services were in great demand to exemplify the degree work before lodges for many miles around. It is now proposed to organize a degree staff from the two lodges to go to Chicago and get some of those prizes. It is thought Decatur won't have much trouble in giving a drill that will be as good as the best.

The Bicyclists.
A committee of bicyclists was around yesterday to see how many were going into the races next Tuesday at Downing's track, north of the city. They found that some objected to the length of the race, 25 miles, so it is quite likely that it will be cut down, so as to insure more entries. It is intended to have 20 at the start. The gate receipts will be divided up in the prizes. The races are not gotten up to make money for any one. Among the prizes offered are a Brooks Ideal cyclometer, a pair of Jersey knit pants, a Union safety lamp, a Lampson luggage carrier, and other articles dear to the bicyclists' hearts.
If the local bicyclists are successful in making these races a success they will get up a series that shall be open to the state.

New Drop Curtain.
P. J. Toomey, of the firm of Noxon & Toomey, St. Louis, who furnished the scenery for the Grand Opera House, arrived in the city yesterday to paint the new drop curtain. The scene now painted never suited Mr. Powers, and was not painted according to an understanding made when the work began. Now a different scene will be painted on it. Some new files and borders will be painted also.
Extra copies of the Illustrated Review of Decatur, 10 cents each, or $1.00 a dozen.

THE QUEER CASE.
Of a Man who is in Jail, Supposed to be Insane.
Wednesday night a gentleman wearing a seersucker coat and carrying a $34 grip arrived at the Deming and registered the name of Fred Hamm, St. Louis. He came in a hack and asked Clerk Bennett to pay his hack fare, remarking that he had no change, but would pay for the hack when he paid his bill in the morning. The clerk complied, and then listened to very minute directions about the kind of a room Mr. Hamm wanted, and the dozens of other attentions that he needed, all of which were given him. The man then went to his room, and the left word to be called for an early train and went to bed.
In the morning Mr. Hamm didn't appear until just time to get the train. Then he came down stairs on a rush, ordered his grip into a hack, and was going off without a word about his bill. He was not allowed to forget it entirely, however, and when his attention was called to the matter, said he would send the money. That wasn't satisfactory, and the grip was carried back into the house. Then Hamm ordered the hackman to drive him on to the depot, anyway. That worthy remarked that his terms were in advance, and he must have the cash. That made the would-be passenger very indignant, and he started to walk to the depot.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning he came back to the hotel, and without any explanation of his conduct in the morning, remained at the house all day. His actions were queer and his stories were queer. Ordinarily he would have been taken as a dead beat and treated as such, but the stories he told were so palpably false and unreasonable that the only conclusion to be drawn was that he was crazy. After telegraphing to a house at St. Louis which it was supposed he represented, and getting a reply that he was not with the house, Mr. Spaulding concluded to have the stranger arrested, and did so, filing a petition in the county court for an inquisition into his sanity. Officers Leech and Brockway arrested Hamm and he is now in jail. He will be examined this morning.
The operator at St. Louis who took Mr. Spaulding's message told an operator in the Decatur office that she knew Hamm's people well and would see them to-night. So it is likely some one will be here this morning to see him and look after his affairs. It is quite possible that this man here is not Fred Hamm at all, but is some one else who has his grip and is traveling on his name. The grip is a fine one, and contains an outfit of toilet articles that bespeaks its owner a gentleman of carefulness and refinement.

The Strike.
So far as Decatur was concerned, the strike situation was unchanged yesterday. The Illinois Central had no trains running. The mail cars without any passengers went over the line on time, but not a Central wheel was turned for any other purpose.
A meeting of the men and officials was held at Chicago yesterday, and the officials informed the men that they would not discharge Superintendent Russell. The men said they could keep him then, but no one would work, and so no one is working. Both sides were standing firm and a prolonged strike seems to be inevitable.
All of this line from Centralia to Du-buque was tied up yesterday. It was the opinion of the men last night that the strike would be extended over the whole system, and in that case the line from Centralia to New Orleans, which has been running, would be blocked. The men have shown that they are perfectly organized by the systematic and thorough way in which division after division has gone out, at the signal from the Chicago grievance committee. The determination they have shown gives weight to the justice of their demands and elicits for them sympathy and good wishes.

A Ten Cent Case.
Half a dozen Mowesque people were in Decatur last night. They had driven up from their place to take the Wabash this morning for Springfield, where they go as witnesses in a whisky case. Some time ago a man named Hayes asked a relative of the same name to bring him a bottle of whisky from town. Both lived in the country. The relative got the whisky, paid for it and turned it over to his friend, who then gave him the amount of cash he had expended for the whisky. A few weeks later the two Hayes had a horse trade and the man who sent for the whisky got decidedly the worst of it. That made him mad, and he informed the revenue officer at Springfield that the Hayes who got the whisky was selling liquor without license. The accommodating Hayes was arrested last Saturday and taken to Springfield, where he will have an examination to-day.

City Marshal Missing.
Mowesque Call-Mail.
J. A. Stanford, late night police of Mowesque, left rather mysteriously last Sunday. He was seen by Mr. J. W. Greaves passing his place, going north about. He was dressed in his everyday clothes and without a coat or vest. On Monday a letter was received here stating that he was at the "St. Nick" in Decatur. Since then nothing has been heard from him. His departure was mysterious. He said nothing to the village board about going away, and they did not know until Monday that he was gone. The town was without protection Sunday night. Stanford had many friends here, who are at loss to explain his sudden and mysterious disappearance. He owned a claim of about $100 at various places in town, and had not drawn his wages for the time he served as night police, in June. His trunk, clothes and other belongings are at the Coombe house, where he boarded.

The Review's Special Edition has made a great hit. Send in your order for a dozen copies to-day.

Funerals.
A great many friends attended the funeral of the baby of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Walker at the family residence on West Main street yesterday. The services were held at 5:30, Rev. W. C. Miller of the Congregational church, officiating. Burial was at Greenwood.
Rev. T. W. Pinkerton conducted the services at the funeral yesterday of the child of Mr. and Mrs. Alburiz, at 1036 West 11th street. Burial was at Greenwood.
A dime will buy a single copy of the special edition or you can get six for 50 cents.
Bound Over.
J. C. Robinson, arrested on charge of throwing a brick through a window, with the intention of murdering his sister, was bound over to the grand jury by 89th Street yesterday in $500 bond. He furnished the bond.
Let your friends know what a lively and flourishing city you live in by sending them the Illustrated Review.

WANT MR. PINKERTON TO STAY.
The Christian Church Board Refuses to Accept His Resignation.
A meeting of the official board of the Christian church was held last night. The resignation of the pastor, Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, was considered, and it was unanimously voted not to accept it. Resolutions were passed asking him to remain and refusing to consider his resignation. The salary will remain the same as now, $1500 a year. It is clear that the church wants Mr. Pinkerton to stay. It seems likely that he will do so. The action of the board shows a feeling toward him. Members of the board were of the opinion last night that Mr. Pinkerton would remain.

STRAY SCRAPS.
Mowesque is to have a new $10,000 school house.
Two electric fans are being put in the Masonic lodge room.
A meeting for Bible study will be held to-night at the First Methodist church.
Dr. J. A. Dawson will deliver the Fourth of July oration at a big F. M. B. A. celebration near La Place.
A great many people will go to the picnic to-day at Bethany. It will be given by Catholic church at Mattoon.
The Citizens' cars were running last night over the double track which is now completed from Lincoln square to the depot.
Messrs. Snow and Jackson, the Detroit owners of the Short Line, who were booked to appear here yesterday, have written that they will be on deck next week.

Acquaintance man was stretched out flat on the depot platform last night sound asleep, with a whisky jug beside him. He was not afraid of mosquito bites.
A great deal of wheat has already been cut, and farmers are busy getting it harvested. Usually they think the first of July is a good time to begin, and are satisfied if the wheat is cut by the 10th.
Major Stilwell will be here to assist the local corps of the Salvation Army Saturday and Sunday evening. There will be a grand demonstration and all are invited.
At Oakland park on the Fourth the school children of Decatur sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs under the direction of Professor Westhoff.
Instead of the usual preaching services of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. H. Penhaligon will have a vespers service, largely made up of music. It will take up only about 40 minutes.
Street Commissioner Alexander was confined at home yesterday by sickness resulting from the excessive heat of Wednesday. He was not struck and will probably be out to-day.

The stone for the Warren street school house arrived yesterday, and the work on the building will be resumed Monday. Capt. I. N. Martin is superintending the work for the board of education.
While at work shocking wheat in a field near Maroa Monday, L. Eberhart, J. T. Davis and Frank Dushak were overcome by the heat. They were seriously ill afterwards, but their condition was not deemed critical.
Attorney George F. Wickens has been engaged to assist in defending young Halden who has been arrested at Monticello for the murder of Russell. The preliminary examination will be held next Tuesday.
Owing to the strike on the Central our drygoods men who receive a great many orders by mail, are having a good deal of trouble in getting their goods to their customers. They do their goods up in packages less than four pounds in weight, and send them by mail.
The men at the water works find that they are obliged to run the pumps much faster between the hours of 4 and 8 in the evening than during the rest of the day. Twice as much water is required then than at any other time. It used for sprinkling lawns and streets. The hot weather has largely increased the amount of water used at all hours.

A letter received from Rev. H. W. Trueblood, who is attending the International Sunday school convention at Pittsburg says he and his wife are well and having a good time attending the sessions with 1,300 other delegates. Mrs. Trueblood was appointed delegate in place of T. C. Elies of Shelbyville, who was not present.
The Central strike has proven a great snap for teamsters along the road. Traveling men who were out on the Central when the strike began have been coming in in wagons ever since. One man arrived last night who had been driven from Assumption. The roads are fine, and a great deal of traveling is being done over them.
A great many people stood on the corner of Second and Water street yesterday and looked at the street car track there. It would attract attention anywhere, as it is laid in a way that would be sure to obtrude it on one's notice. Workmen were tearing up the pavement yesterday preparatory to making an inclined plane up to the rails. This settles one uncertainty at least. The passengers won't have to climb a stairway to get to the cars. The people can use that hill for a toboggan slide in winter time.

Arrested For Robbery.
Frank Barnes, a colored man, was arrested last night on charge of assaulting David Woods at the corner of Eldorado and Water streets, Saturday night. Woods still looks badly used up. After the case had been worked up by Marshal Mason the victim was sent to a ward on Wednesday. He was and was served by Officers Barratt and Williamson, who locked him in the county jail.
Two other negroes were arrested on charge of being accomplices. They are wanted principally as witnesses. While it is not believed that they had any hand in the attempted robbery it is certain that they know the facts about it. The police think they have evidence that will send Burns to the penitentiary for highway robbery.

The Weather.
Yesterday was as hot as any day so far, as may be seen by the observations taken at Blake's pharmacy, on Water street:
6 a. m. 84 4 p. m. 96
8 a. m. 86 6 p. m. 90
10 a. m. 94 8 p. m. 88
12 m. 100 10 p. m. 84
1 p. m. 102 12 m. 79
2 p. m. 100 2 a. m. 77
One thermometer went completely crazy. It was at the Deming hotel. After getting up to 98 in the shade it stuck, and refused to come down, even after all others had dropped to 88. Evidently it was tired going up and down every day, and concluded to stay at the top.
Orders for the special edition can now be promptly filled.

Six copies of the special edition for half a dollar. Send in your order to-day.

TRACK AND TRAIN.
W. A. Boggs, T. H. & P. agent at Arcola was in Decatur yesterday.
Engineer Tom Wyatt of the Wabash has been off for several days on account of sickness.
Herman Gaberman, senior traveling auditor for the Wabash, was here yesterday to see the boys.
L. D. & W. Engineer Randall is back on the 2 and Engineer Gentry is back on the 9. Both have been laying off.
Engine 5 on the T. H. & P. accommodation west, leaving here in the morning broke down yesterday. Engine No. 10 went to the rescue.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Some Charming Schemes and New Ideas in Table Decoration.
A charming scheme of table decoration was lately seen at an artist's supper table. The table was covered with delicate green silk, slightly draped with flax, silver threaded muslin, through which the green shimmured faintly. Thrown carelessly hither and thither were small rustic logs of all shapes and sizes, covered with lichen, moss and rustic ferns. The lights were all softened with green and white shades. The effect was dainty and fairy like.
A golden scheme of color is carried out with long fronds of maidenhair ferns, arranged in fancy baskets of gilded wire of different sizes. A long curved spray of flowers spread at either end of the table may be composed of the large single daffodils and small flowered mimosa. Yellow sweetworts in little gold dishes and yellow shades on the candles complete the decoration.

A new idea is to place low baskets in gold mesh or wire full of flowers, around these to lay pretty green leaves, the fruit resting on the leaves, not on a dish; the larger leaves near the center and the smaller ones near the edge of the table.

Fruit Salads.
Fruit salads may be made of berries, oranges, bananas, pineapples, melons, etc. Apples, also, peaches and pears, are served as salads with French dressing, after being peeled and cut in slices. Three ten spoonsful of oil, one of vinegar, one small teaspoonful of salt and a little pepper mix well together and pour over the sliced fruit arranged in a dish. This may be used with oranges, adding a little of the chopped rind to the dressing. A sweet syrup may be used instead, made of white sugar dissolved in water and boiled till thick; to this add a flavoring of sherry wine or brandy. For an acid dressing for sweet oranges, bananas and apples, mix a thick syrup of sugar stir the juice of one lemon, add chopped orange peel or rub the yellow rind on lumps of sugar till they are well flavored, then dissolve them in the syrup. The plain syrup, made of sugar and flavored with orange and a very little lemon juice, is excellent for banana salad.

An Attractive Wall Pocket.
Cut a stout sheet of cardboard for the back 18 inches by 18 inches, and shape the top in a vandyke, have a similar piece in coarse cretonne, allowing one fourth inch for turnings, and gum it at the back. For the front cut a wide band of pompadour silk or chintz, which will be placed at the top and joined to another one in old pink satin.

LOUIS XVI WALL POCKET.
The loose part of the pocket is gathered at the lower edge, and is caught up in a few folds and crossed with a double row of the same gimp, fringe or ruffling which frames the vandyke. Over the cretonne behind the gimp a breadth of cream satin. It is hung with two satin ribbons tied in a butterfly bow.

Points About Brooms.
A broom corn dealer says: "A few years ago all broom corn was so loaded with sulphur fumes as to make it so white that it nearly destroyed the phylloxy, and it sometimes broke to pieces much more rapidly than it should have done. Now the broom makers have gone to the other extreme. They dye their broom corn so green that housekeepers are afraid to break off one of the splits to test a cake with for fear they may be poisoned with Paris green." "Why do they do so?" he was asked. "Well," said he, "I don't know exactly, but I suppose styles must change. Then, again, the housekeepers may have found out that the white brooms didn't wear so well, and caused a demand for green ones." "But are they really dyed with Paris green?" "I can't say as to that. It doesn't look like it to me, but I'd rather be on the safe side and not eat any of it."

A Delicate Cake.
Three cups of sugar, three of flour, three-fourths of sweet milk, one-half butter, and whites of six eggs; one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, flavored with the grated rind of a fresh lemon; beat all the ingredients well and add the whites of the eggs the last thing.
